The Malaysian Association of Amusement Theme Park and Family Attractions (MAATFA) president Tan Sri Richard CK Koh said if the appeal is not considered, the theme park and attractions industry will not survive another year. Revellers flocked to Ocean Park's reopening as bars and karaoke lounges were among the Hong Kong entertainment venues welcoming back customers under the latest easing of Covid-19 social-distancing measures.

The theme park in Aberdeen opened its doors from about 10am after closing for more than two months during the city's third wave of Covid-19. Most of the first 20 or so visitors waiting outside the gates in the morning were adults, including the elderly, with few children given that pupils had resumed classes.

The attraction must run at half-capacity and all visitors, other than those exempted, had to book ahead online. Wearing masks is compulsory and guests must have their temperature checked at the entrance.
